FROM THE PRESIDENT

I would like to start this months' From The President with a wish for a Happy Birthday for this great country, The United States of America. I would also like to wish you and your families a very happy and healthy summer season.

I would also like you to keep the victims, their families, and the first responders of the recent tragedies, both manmade and natural that have occurred in the United States and around the world in your thoughts and prayers.

OFF-CAMPUS, by Tim Knisely

Unwanted alarms, revisited:

A couple of years ago I wrote a series of articles about reducing false and unwanted alarms. This series looked at reduction efforts during the plan review process, eliminating unnecessary devices and follow up of existing system activations. For anyone involved in this endeavor it is quite time consuming and seems to produce minimal results. So, what more can be done?

LIFE SAFETY, FIRE SAFETY, SECURITY SAFETY: Blended, Balanced and Built In.
By: Robert Solomon, PE, NFPA

At the NFPA School Safety, Codes Security workshop held in December 2014 (see workshop report, May 2015), a prime recommendation centered on the need to integrate security into building design. The workshop report indicated that in far too many cases, security is an afterthought to other key building design considerations. Traditional building, fire, and life safety code rules address the need to regulate materials of ...

MEMBER PRESS RELEASE

Today's Incident Safety Officer, by Eric Valliere, FDSOA Board of Directors Deputy Fire Chief, Operations, Scottsdale Fire Department, Scottsdale AZ

It wasn't that long ago that Safety was merely a check box on the Incident Commander’s Tactical Worksheet. Within the Incident Command System, Safety has always been the IC’s responsibility, but in the past, it was a passive process that was touched-on during the tailboard critique after the fire. Work Place Safety was the term most used and it pertained to more of an Occupational Safety and Health Association check-off at the fire station. I know you remember the person responsible for this check-off saying, "Let's make sure those grinders at the stations have a guard on them."

What Kind of Cooks are your students?

We’re working with NFPA and Domino's to launch a Campus Fire Safety Month Quiz and Sweepstakes in September! This year, the focus of the campaign is cooking fires.

We need your help!!!

Please encourage your students to participate in our interactive 8-question quiz and sweepstakes by asking them: What kind of cook are you in the kitchen?

The quiz & Sweepstakes will run through the month of September, but we could use your help now to promote it and even post a notice on your student orientation webpage. If you're willing to help, please email us, and we'll send you posters, safety tips, banners and a web banner. We can even customize items with your school logo. Simply let us know by August 15.

WEBINAR ... We'll send you a webinar invitation soon!

Coming in September .... Fire Safety Regulations for Food Trucks
Jacqueline Wilmot, Fire Protection Engineer at NFPA

This webinar will address the fire hazards associated with mobile food trucks and create awareness that not one code, recommended practice or standard addresses this issue as a whole to provide requirements for fire protection or life safety purposes for mobile food trucks. Fire Departments of major cities around the country are developing their own standard to solve this issue and prevent disasters from occurring in the future. The International Fire Marshals Association (IFMA) submitted public input to NFPA 1 and NFPA 96 to address this issue. At the time of the webinar an update will be provided based on the Technical Committees decisions during Committee Meetings from NFPA 1 and NFPA 96.
