New Sub-Committees enhance Fire and Life Safety Messages from The Center for Campus Fire Safety

The Center for Campus Fire Safety®, (The Center) the nation's sole, non-profit, member-based organization dedicated to campus fire and life safety in the higher education community recently announced the expansion of its Professional Development, Education and Events Committee.

The purpose of the Professional Development, Education and Events Committee is to develop training programs, events, products and services that enhance the technical skills and professional knowledge of The Center's members. This is a large committee that was recently divided into several sub-committees to allow smaller groups to work on more projects.

The committee's primary responsibilities include: planning and implementing the annual Campus Fire Forum, Online Webinar Training, Professional Development Seminars (PDS) and other specialty training programs offered, or co-sponsored by The Center. This Committee is also responsible for working with non-profit partners and other Center networking activities related to professional development.

The overall committee is led by Michael Swain (University of Massachusetts, Amherst) and Janet Maupin (University of Champaign) with Neal Zipser (Kidde) as Vice Chair. Sub-Committees and their new leadership follows.

- a) Forum Speaker Sub-Committee - Janet Maupin & Justin Daniels (University of Oklahoma) as Co-Chairs.
- b) Webinar Speaker Sub-Committee - Neal Zipser
- c) Campus Events/Projects Sub-Committee - Justin Daniels
- d) Non Profit Partner Sub-Committee - John Fellers (Texas A&M) and Daniel Finnegan (SIEMENS) as Co-Chairs.
- e) Product Development Sub-Committee - David Taylor, Gettysburg College
